FOREWORD

To portray the events and achievements of this school year, to radiate its spirit, enrich memories, strengthen friendships and kindle fires of love for our Alma Mater is the purpose of the Maple Leaf of 1929.

DEDICATION

To the Fathers and Mothers who have borne and nurtured us; whose Christian ideals have caused them through sacrifice to establish and maintain our Alma Mater; and who are now looking to us to perpetuate the same high standard of moral integrity and spiritual living which has been our heritage, we, the Junior and Senior classes, gratefully dedicate this volume.

The vision of past generations of students, faculty, and far-seeing leaders of Goshen College is at last on the way toward realization. An endowment campaign is in full swing. In the past Goshen College has been striving to establish herself on firm educational, financial, and religious foundations. The past few years have been years of reconstruction but now the years of progress are upon us, and visions of a satisfying future beckon us.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Education in June, 1927, a complete program for the raising of endowment for Goshen College and Hesston College was adopted with remarkable unanimity. The goal was set at $210,000 in three years, of which $150,000 was to be for Goshen, and $60,000 for Hesston. An organization was effected and instructions as to policy were issued. The organization began to function at full strength by the end of the year 1927.

The campaign has been in progress now for over a year and a half. It has not been an intensive, high-pressure campaign. Rather the entire program has been conducted in a quiet, conservative manner, in accord with the spirit of the Mennonite Church. The Endowment Director and his immediate assistants in the field have endeavored to present the case for Endowment in a convincing manner, and let the cause of Christian Education speak for itself. After public presentation of the cause in a community, the solicitors have conducted a house-to-house canvas. The endorsement and support of the local leaders in the ministry and laity has been almost uniformly gratifying. One of the reasons no doubt for this support has been the fact that the various district conferences in the constituency without exception endorsed the program and urged their members to contribute.

John S. Coffman Hall

The students and friends of Goshen College received the announcement of a new men's dormitory as the fulfillment of a long-cherished desire. The present building, East Hall, was the first building erected on the campus and has accommodations for only thirty-six men. Moreover generations of students have left upon it unmistakable marks of usage.

The new building is located on the east side of the campus and faces Kulp Hall on the west. It is a modern brick structure, eighty-six by fifty-eight feet, three stories above the basement. On the first floor there will be a reception room, matron's office, and Y. M. C. A. room. The remainder of the building is given to living rooms, fifty-three in all.

The dormitory is being erected by the Mennonite Educational Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Mennonite Board of Education. The rental income over a period of years will be used toward its purchase by the College.

The officers and members of the Board of Directors are: Edwin Yoder, President; S. C. Yoder, Vice-President; C. L. Graber, Secretary-Treasurer; E. F. Martin, O. O. Miller, D. D. Troyer, J. D. Hartzler, Joseph Orendorff, M. C. Cressman, Arthur Augsburger.

SANFORD CALVIN YODER, B.A., LL.B., President

"The great need of this day is not more knowledge but the right kind of knowledge; not more culture—much as that is needed—but more character. Schools are numerous, teachers are plentiful, and books are cheap. Any one who desires to become learned may do so. This situation presents a challenge to the Christian college whose duty it is to teach people to think correctly, to choose wisely, to live nobly, and to die happy. A life that is lived for self, and a character that is moral without being Christian, is a failure when viewed in the light of eternal values, but a life that is hidden away with Christ in God and lived in the spirit of Him who came not to be ministered unto but to minister is the highest and best to which man can attain, both here and hereafter."

NOAH OYER, B.A., Th.B., Dean

The finest things that come to us in life are the result of sacrifice. Others "have labored, and we have entered into their labors". Our productive fields are the fruit of the sacrificial toil of our fathers. Our homes are built upon sacrifice. Our College would fail if it were not for the willing sacrifice of parents, teachers and students. The Church is founded upon the Supreme Sacrifice, and points us to the fact that behind our world of sense there is a Person who cares for man, and has a noble purpose and a worthy destiny for him. The best things that are to come will come through sacrifice. Not the sacrifice that renders people wretched and miserable, but sacrifice that surmounts pain, sorrow and loss, and is motivated by an earnest desire to build into our today the rich heritage of our past.

Senior Class History

In the Spring of 1925 six persons graduated from the Academy. In the Fall of the same year they all returned to form the nucleus of the class of '29. Of this number two have reached their Senior year. Fifty-eight others came from many states, bringing the total of Freshmen to sixty-four. While we were Freshmen we behaved as such so as not to disappoint our elders. We really should not have been proud of winning first place in debate and basket-ball, but we did not know better. We repented of our many faults and blunders resolving to do better the next year.

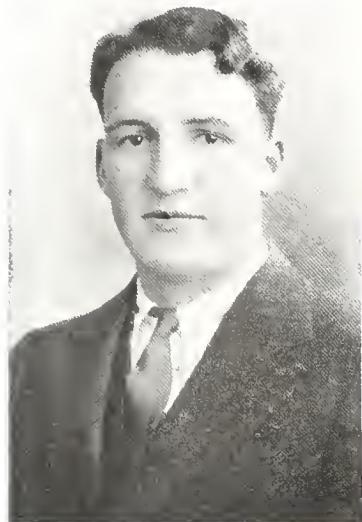

While we were Sophomores we worked hard and again won first place in debating and basket-ball. We regretted that only thirty of our members had returned. Many of those who were not with us in the Sophomore year have since come back to the school they learned to love while Freshmen. As Sophomores we were given a few responsibilities which forced us to give up the care-free attitude of the former year. However we learned that there is real joy in doing the hard things.

When we became Juniors we began to plan for the future. Some chose teaching; some, other professions; and still others preferred active work for the Church. It was a year full of trials, full of strenuous work. Someone has said that the Junior year is the hardest year of College. We really believe it! The Freshmen succeeded in taking the basket-ball cup from us, but our debating and track teams again emerged victorious. There is always a bright side—we eagerly looked forward to the final year of our College days.

At last we are Seniors. Debating honors again came our way—the fourth time! Twenty-three of us who are graduating were Juniors together, while the remaining four came last fall to complete their College work with us. It is difficult to describe the feelings of a Senior. There is work—that is taken for granted—and there is much of it. Perhaps we may even find ourselves wishing we could begin again as Freshmen and do better—yes, much better. But there is more than this! Somehow as we think of leaving, the College Halls grow dearer. How we try to do our best! How we do hope for our Alma Mater a glorious future as we bid her farewell! How we do love her! These are a few of our feelings as Seniors.

—WM. E. HALLMAN.

NOTE: Mrs. Owen D. Yoder and Icie Steiner became members of the class during the last semester and their pictures do not appear in the senior section.

"Zeke" is an enigmatical sort of a person; just when you have him figured out he isn't that way at all. He used to be given to a particular slouch hat and sweater but lately he has taken to wearing his best. Cecil really should have lived when knighthood was in flower. There is little doubt of his abilities for he is a gentleman of many accomplishments. Above all, he is the only member of the class possessing sufficient romanticism to write real poetry. But it isn't the capable student but the Zeke, always ready for a friendly chat or tussle, who will linger longest in our memories.

This elongated philosopher of the class has congeniality as his middle name. Believing in the saying that a person is never too old to learn, he started to college at an age when most people are thinking of settling down for life. But age makes no difference; youth is perpetual for Hank. More than once his droll, sparkling wit and soft chuckle have broken the ice of reserve and loosed a flood of good will and laughter. Hank is a man of reputation—he has owned more Fords (only seven in the last five years), has the keenest wit, has become a student authority on mushrooms, and slept more in the reading room than any man on the campus.

Everyone knows "Johnny" and has found in her a loyal friend. Though quiet and unassuming she has capably filled the place of Y. W. C. A. president and has shown her ability to handle many a situation. The duties of assistant matron of Kulp Hall have also claimed a share of her attention but yet in Pearl we find a person who always has time to speak to you and to wholeheartedly enter into other activities, for you also find her on the basket-ball floor, the tennis court, in the kitchen arranging trays for sick folks, and doing all effectively.

Although "Bill" was reared in the cold and snowy northwest his disposition does not seem to have been affected by his climatic environment, as he is jovial and rather skilled in making witty remarks which bring a ready laugh from his hearers. He can be serious, too, and is a hard worker, a sincere and loyal student, and will be sure to capably fill his chosen place in life performing his tasks with the same earnestness and zeal, seasoned with his sense of humor, that he has displayed with us in the past four years.

Sunny and pleasant is this Southern girl from the plains of the Argentine. Blessed with an unusual store of energy you rarely find her idle and thus she accomplishes an extraordinary amount of work—but not always without a good deal of fuss and flurry. As Bee returns to her southern home we are sure that her winning smile will ease many a heartache, lighten the burden of the weary, and lead the soul that knows no rest to peace in God.

This active young man has a capacity for doing many things and excelling in all. Versatility never sat easier on man than on this blond little Senior. With the same energy with which he wins a tennis championship he has out-argued and out-reasoned all debaters during the last four years; has waded through stiffest problems in Calculus and Physics; has edited the Record and has led in musical activity. But yet he finds time to play jokes on everyone and if something is going on anywhere, Paul is there.

To say that some people are studious and conscientious workers is a bit of exaggeration, but it is really true of "Hokey", for he can spend hours (in the reading room) to satisfy a professor's whim (?). He is not a person who is satisfied in merely getting a thing done but for him it must be done well. Photography seems to have been his sideline and few there be who have not at some time come within range of his kodak. A man of convictions and an argumentative mind is this Senior who has filled the position of college barber. He has been far too busy this year—perhaps with his family as he has acquired his degree (P. A.) before commencement—to spend much time on the campus, but when here did his bit faithfully. We are sure Warren has something to contribute to the world and that he will not be satisfied until he has fulfilled that mission.

Anyone who has been elected treasurer, business manager, or president as often as this man must possess genuine ability. Moreover all the cares and responsibilities of the world couldn't jar his calm, unhurried state of mind. He does have one failing—he usually arrives late, inquiring, "What's the rush?" His consuming hobby is aviation and we are rather surprised that he has not already taken to flying. F. It is amazing how much interior-decorating this young man has done and still attended classes. With characteristic energy he has attacked the task at hand be it painting or studying. L. J. is happy when bidding on a job or making money. But this is only one side. Philosophy and Sociology hold special charms for him and he will discuss them with you whenever he has time. Vesperian; President Vesperian Literary Society IV; Debating Team II; Intersociety Council III; Science Club; S. L. A. Book Committee III.

In Mary we find the kind of girl who excels in all she attempts. She has proved herself to be a real student but in spite of this she has always had time for other activities. Athletics have occupied a part of her time. Especially in basket-ball has she distinguished herself, and she has won her Honor Sweater. She seems to have the knack of knowing just where the ball is going and gets there too. She is an excellent tennis player but five-mile hikes seem to be her hobby. Mary has also shown her ability as a debater and no one will deny the fact that she delights in engaging in many a verbal battle.

HOWARD Y. MUSSelman

ORRTANNA, PENNSYLVANIA

Biology

Aurora; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet III, IV; Treasurer Athletic Association I; President Audubon Society II, III; Student Assistant in Botany III, IV; Men's Chorus II, III; President S. L. A. IV; President Aurora Literary Society IV; Editor Maple Leaf IV; President Class II; Class Basketball; Mennonite Historical Society.

Dependable, industrious, energetic, an able leader, and a master of ceremonies is this young man who hails from Pennsylvania. The highest scholastic attainments have come his way but a glance at his activities is proof sufficient that studying has not occupied all his time. Some students must burn midnight oil to get grades but Howard is one who gets them without. "Muss" has lent his presence to practically every committee meeting and taken part in various lines of activity. He is an excellent athlete, active in Y. M. work, student assistant in Botany, a great lover of nature and through his efforts has made the 1929 Maple Leaf a reality.

RALPH MYERS

BENNETT'S SWITCH, INDIANA

Biology, History and Social Science

Adelphian; Secretary Adelphian Literary II; Secretary Men's Dormitory Association III; Vice-President Men's Athletic Association IV; Record Staff IV; Student Assistant in Zoology III, IV; Science Club; S. L. A. Book Committee III, IV; Class Basketball I, II, III, IV.

"Myers" is one of our happily married classmates but none the less a valuable asset. Enthusiasm as well as his scholastic attainments are going to make him a good teacher. During the past two years he has shown his ability along this line as student assistant in Zoology. Besides being an excellent student "Myers" always has some time left for athletics and more especially basket-ball. He goes into a game with the same spirit of determination with which he tackles his lessons and often comes out successful.

SCHUYLER PLETCHER

GOSHEN, INDIANA

History and Biology

Aurora; Student Winona Lake Summer School; Extension Student at Indiana University; Terre Haute Normal; Ball Teachers College, Muncie, Ind.; Manchester College.

Coming to join the class in our last year we have hardly learned to know him. Yet we can see in him a typical leader and a thorough student. Being busy taking care of farm work in addition to his studies he has not entered into as many extracurricular activities, but still we find in him a staunch supporter of the class. As he again takes up his chosen profession, teaching, we are sure he will achieve even greater success than he had before joining the class.

FRANKLIN B. RABER

GOSHEN, INDIANA

Bible and English

Adelphian; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet IV; Eastern Mennonite School I, II; Intersociety Council IV; Supt. Mission Sunday School IV; President Christian Workers' Band IV; Mennonite Historical Society.

For two years Frank has been one of the steady influences of the class. Never moved to hasty action or ill-considered plan, he considers problems from all sides before rendering his well-balanced opinions. Quietly and efficiently he accomplishes a considerable amount of work. We like his good sense of humor and have appreciated his whole-hearted support of the class. As superintendent of the Mission Sunday School, his wife and he have done much; and in his chosen field of mission work we are sure he will do more great things for we all know him as a devout Christian man.

DULA ROTH

GOSHEN, INDIANA

English and Biology

Avon; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet III, IV; Secretary Class IV; President Avon Literary Society III; Student Assistant Botany III, IV; Intersociety Council III, IV; Student Lecture Board IV; Secretary Science Club IV.

Calm, reposed dignity marks the distinctive charm of this black-eyed and black-haired maiden. She is never over-excited or in too much of a hurry to help others. Few students there are who have not been charmed by her personality. Never ostentatious but steady and loyal she has been a consistent member of the class for three years, always wholeheartedly supporting its activities. She has distinguished herself as a debater and scholar as well as a leader of Y. W. activities.

ESTHER L. ROTH

WAYLAND, IOWA

Home Economics and History

Vesperian; Secretary Vesperian Literary Society II; Science Club; Mennonite Historical Society; President Home Economics Club IV; Record Staff II; Associate Editor Maple Leaf IV; Debating Team I, II.

The fertility of Iowa soil was not able to make Esther grow tall. Possessed of boundless energy and quick as a flash, the wonder is that she is not excitable or temperamental. It is entirely possible that some may have spent four years in school with her and yet not really have known her. But behind a certain reserve there is a jolly, joking Esther who in spite of herself can't stay mad and who once a friend is always a friend. Moreover you may be sure that whatever she tells you, complimentary or not, is her honest opinion. Her chief interest is Home Economics and she has proved her constructive executive ability by very ably serving as the first president of the Home Economics Club.

HOWARD L. SCHERTZ

History and Political Science

Adelphian; Science Club; Summer Term Notre Dame University; Oratorical Contest II, III; Discussion Contest IV; Men's Chorus IV; A Cappella Chorus IV; Audubon Society; Mennonite Historical Society; Class Basketball Team II, III, IV.

Originally from Illinois, Howard through his extensive travels in the south and west, is the most traveled man in the class. With confidence in his ability as a salesman he has had many experiences in his summer vacations and has become a "walking encyclopedia" of odd and humorous facts about widely diversified people, incidents, and places. Once his ambition was to be an auctioneer but now it's a lawyer. He is adept at the art of questioning as many a professor will testify and his humorous remarks have kept more than one history student from going to sleep.

MARION G. SCHERTZ

ROANOKE, ILLINOIS

Biology and Social Science

Adelphian; Mennonite Historical Society; A Cappella Chorus III; Science Club; Class Basketball I, II, III, IV.

"Dime" is one of the handsome members of our class. He pretends to hate conventionalities, form, tradition, or anything that pertains to law, yet insists on eating three meals a day and having a good sleep at night. The fact that he has been on our basket-ball team each year proves that he is a good athlete. In addition to basket-ball he is also interested in baseball and track.

CHARLES SCHLITZER

BLOOMING GLEN, PENNSYLVANIA

Education

Adelphian; Vice-President Class IV; Keystone State Normal School; Muhlenberg College, Allentown, Pa.; President Student Council IV.

Here is one of our dignified Seniors. Yes, but dignity occurring in such a happy combination with friendly cheerfulness that he is one of the most congenial, respected, and best-liked men on the campus. In the short year he has been with us, he has repeatedly proved his worth and we are sorry we were not privileged to have him with us before. We have felt his influence as President of the Student Council and if he continues getting things done as he has here, we are sure he will soon make his influence for good felt wherever he happens to be.

WILBUR D. SHENK

ELIDA, OHIO

Physical Science and Biology

Aurora; Defiance College I; A Cappella Chorus IV; Men's Chorus IV; Class Basketball Team II, III, IV.

Shenk probably has as great a store of abilities, with as little a consciousness of their powers, as any man on the campus. Socially attractive, capable in class work, a star in athletics, and yet when public notice turns his way he becomes disturbed. Lately he has become intensely interested in music and his persistent vocalizations are familiar to all of Kulp Hall. If persistence and ability make as happy a combination in his life work—whatever that may be—as it has in his music, there can be little doubt of a successful career.

CLARENCE TROYER

WALNUT CREEK, OHIO

History and Social Science

Aurora; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet III; A Cappella Chorus I, II, III, IV; Men's Chorus III, IV; Varsity Basketball Team III; Varsity Baseball Team I, II, III.

One of the newest members of the class having been with us on'y one semester yet he has already imbibed a good deal of our class spirit and become one with us. His earlier college training was also received at Goshen College and during this time he established for h'mself quite a reputation as an athlete. However while with us this half year he has been too busy reading history to fully resume his athletic activities. During the interval between the beginning and end of his college career he has forsaken single blessedness and has spent several years as a teacher in the Ohio schools.

RUTH V. YODER

WOOSTER, OHIO

Mathematics and English

Vesperian; Summer Student Kent Normal School and Fort Collins State Agricultural College; President Vesperian Literary Society III; Audubon Society; Science Club; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet I, II, III, IV; Student Council IV; Debating Team I, II; Secretary Class III; Vice-President Mennonite Historical Society; Associate Editor Record III.

Ruth "Vee" could probably tell of more thrilling Kulp Hall escapades than most of the world dreams of. But playing pranks has not monopolized all of her time. Conscientiousness is a trait personified in Ruth. When something must needs be done her whole soul enters into it whether it be studying "math", debating, basket-ball, or tennis. Many a person has found in her a "big sister" in whom they could confide and always find an interested listener and advisor.

IRENE ZOOK

MANSON, IOWA

English and Bible

Avon; Vice-President Avon Literary Society IV; Mennonite Historical Society; Science Club; Desk Assistant to Librarian IV.

One of the modest, retiring members of the class, Irene has only been with us two years but we have appreciated her studiousness, her cheerful disposition and her loyalty to the class. If there is anything to be done Irene is always willing to help cheerfully. She has shown her efficiency and capability as desk assistant to the librarian and we are sure that in whatever she undertakes these two characteristics will be outstanding. Always calm she goes serenely on her way and has been an example of Christian character to the student body.

THE CLASS OF 1930

Class Officers

President - - - - Forrest Kanagy
Vice-President - - Harvey Driver
Secretary - - - - Martha Yoder
Treasurer - - - - Hazel Stauffer

JOHN BENDER
GOSHEN, INDIANA

Our orator, debater, poet, and vocabulary builder is John. Very industrious but always ready for fun.

ALTA BRENNEMAN
WELLMAN, IOWA

Imagine Alta crying over spilled milk! She can't be bothered. Ambition, joviality, mischief, and wit depict her personality.

BLANCHE BRENNEMAN
ELIDA, OHIO

Blanche has an appreciation for the beautiful and possesses a wit that is rare. She produces some fine poetry and finds pleasure in doing so. Always busy and always cheerful.

HARVEY DRIVER
HESSTON, KANSAS

Harvey possesses those qualities that make an all-around college man. He has musical talent and athletic ability. Always pleasant, courteous, and helpful to those about him.

ALLEN EBERSOLE
ELKHART, INDIANA

Allen is not always as serious as his appearance. He is conscientious, loyal, and a friend to all. His optimistic nature enables him to see a humorous side to the darkest cloud.

ARDIS EBERSOLE
ELKHART, INDIANA

Helpful, noble, and modest is our blonde maiden, Ardis. Though quiet and unassuming, she has well demonstrated the art of acquiring lasting friendships.

MURL ELDRIDGE
GOSHEN, INDIANA

Though seemingly quiet and reserved, Murl is endowed with a goodly supply of humor. He is a hard worker and a good student.

LEROY ELLIS
GOSHEN, INDIANA

Yes, we're proud of our preacher! Mr. Ellis believes and practices what he preaches. Though serious-minded, he frequently displays his wit and keen sense of humor.

PAULINE HERR
LANCASTER, PENNSYLVANIA

If you want to know, ask "Polly". The sparkle of her eyes does not conceal her brilliancy. Neither does she hide her candle under a bushel.

MARK HERTZLER
DENBIGH, VIRGINIA

If not there for the Alpha, you can be assured he will be there for the Omega. Mark has that valuable quality called application.

MARY HESS
HESSTON, KANSAS

Would you travel the road o' success? Keep a-goin', stick to your job, be a good sport, don't give up the ship—that's Mary's creed.

GLADYS HONDERICH
GOSHEN, INDIANA

Ever see Gladys shirk her duty? We know she'll succeed for she lacks neither ambition, trustworthiness, nor perseverance. Modesty is her virtue.

ADELIA HOSTETLER
NAMPA, IDAHO

Adelia Hostetler is always laughing, jolly, and full of fun. She has the western sunshine in her personality.

FORREST KANAGY
CABLE, OHIO

Full of pep and business-like, that's Forrest. He knows when to work and when to play. Leadership, neatness, and friendliness go hand and hand with him.

ADA LAPP
GOSHEN, INDIANA

"Spreader of sunshine, chaser of gloom—Why that's Ada, optimism in bloom!"

Her keen sense of humor is a good cure for the blues.

LOIS LAPP
DHAMTARI, INDIA

Sweet and quiet with a noble consideration for others, that's Lois. Our motto, "Culture for Service", is leading her back to her people.

FYRNE MILLER

SUGAR CREEK, OHIO

Unassuming, kind, and thoughtful,
Fyrne's traits are such
That with little fluster and less flurry
She can accomplish much.

RUTH MILLER

MARSHALLVILLE, OHIO

A quiet but efficient leader in both Home Economics and athletics. Her jolly congeniality plus a keen sense of humor has won many friends for her.

BESSIE MOYER

PERKASIE, PENNSYLVANIA

Sweet-tempered, cheerful, and always ready to do her part is Bessie. Her steady and dependable character is a valuable asset to any group.

EDWARD ROUPP

WICHITA, KANSAS

Houses of wood Ed likes to build
And monstrous castles of air;
If he's not in the cellar, just look on the roof,
And we're certain you'll find him there.

MARY ROYER

ORRVILLE, OHIO

Pure in heart and conscientious,
Modest and sincere;
High ideals and Christian living
In Mary we revere.

LELA SCHERTZ

ROANOKE, ILLINOIS

Womanly modesty and personal dignity are her characteristics. She makes no effort to be heard but her generous open-hearted spirit takes the place of a ready tongue.

KATIE SMUCKER

SMITHVILLE, OHIO

A good leader, possessing determination, friendliness, and an urge to move on and do things. "Katie-Did" and still does. She is every inch energy.

SILAS SMUCKER

GOSHEN, INDIANA

Though quiet and reserved Silas is an earnest and very capable worker. His heart is one of gold but you cannot find it on his sleeve.

HAZEL STAUFFER

MILLERSVILLE, PENNSYLVANIA

"In quietness and confidence is her strength. Calm, good-natured, modest, and demure is Hazel. Though she says little, what she says is worthwhile."

ICIE STEINER

ORRVILLE, OHIO

The professors can tell you that Icie does good work. She says little, makes less fuss, but does much. She enjoys a good joke and has a store of droll humor.

JOANNA SUDERMANN

GOSHEN, INDIANA

"The king's daughter is all glorious within." Joanna's queenly bearing, quiet dignity, rare talents, and cheerful disposition have won our admiration.

ADA THUT

DOYLESTOWN, PENNSYLVANIA

"Give each thing its true worth," is Ada's motto. And so she is fair, sensible, and optimistic, noting always the good qualities in those about her.

EVA YEACKLEY

MILFORD, NEBRASKA

Eva's tallness in stature is well balanced with a cheerful and noble character. She is an untiring worker who accomplishes things.

MARTHA YODER

WOOSTER, OHIO

Size plus an active good nature equals our smallest Junior. Although Martha takes her work seriously, she is always ready for a good time.

Junior Class History

In the autumn of Nineteen Twenty-six we presented ourselves forty strong at the doors of Goshen College and knocked for admittance. A sympathetic faculty and kindly student body welcomed us and very hospitably made us feel at home. We exhibited some of the customary greenness charged to Freshmen, but we knew that verdancy meant growth and were not in the least discouraged. We chose as our motto, "Climb, though the rocks be rugged", and accordingly took part in debate, athletics, and the various activities on the campus. We did not distinguish ourselves in any brilliant way but worked steadily.

Some of the pleasant social events of that first year were the backwards party, the old-fashioned sleigh ride, the taffy pull after "pulling" through our first college examinations, the day's outing at the lake, and the maple taffy party at Gladys Honderich's.

The Sophomore year found us decreased in numbers to thirty-three but still climbing on. We retained our Freshman officers and chose Professor Umhle to be our class sponsor to fill the place of Professor Hohn who had left us at the end of the Freshman year. We spent several pleasant social evenings together as a class and entertained the Seniors at an oyster supper at Silas Smucker's home. Our Sophomore girls won the basketball tournament and our boys the Freshman-Sophomore debate. So you see we really were climbing.

Now we are Juniors with only one more year to spend in "our dear and glorious Parkside". We feel that we have gained much in our three years at Goshen and hope that we also may make a worthwhile contribution to the life of the college. This year we have participated in debate, oratory, athletics, and Y. P. C. A. work. Again not all the laurels have come our way, but we are still climbing. Our numbers have fallen to thirty in our third year with a great preponderance of girls—at least two to every boy in the class. We have elected our president to his third term of office.

The outstanding date on our social calendar was March twenty-third, when we banqueted the Senior Class at the Alderman Hotel. President Yoder and Mrs. Yoder were also our guests. The theme followed out in the program was the "Maple Leaf".

This year the Juniors were given the oversight of the Freshmen for the first six weeks of the school year until they had elected their officers. At the end of the six weeks we had a Freshman-Junior party in the gym after which we surrendered all authority to the Freshmen themselves.

As we receive the college emblems from the Seniors this year and step into their places, we are sorry that our college life is so near an end. Truly these years we have spent together as a class at Goshen have brought us many experiences which have tended to force us out of ourselves and to instil in us the culture which must find expression in Christian service.

—MARY ROYER, Historian.

THE CLASS OF 1929

Class Officers

President - - - - Gerald Jacobs
Vice-Prrsident - - - - Mary Roth
Secretary - - - - Lena Graber
Treasurer - - - - Carl Metzler

MARY ROTH
GOSHEN, IND.

She is an athlete, full of pep and fun. Her good nature has won for her many friends.

ROZETTA ROPP
KALONA, IA.

"Rosie" has proved herself a good student in spite of the fact that she is from "Ioway". Her cheery smile has won a place for her among the students.

BEULAH SHANK
WAKARUSA, IND.

Timid and reserved is this "Hoosier" maid. She is blessed with an unusual amount of talent.

DANIEL HERSHBERGER
KALONA, IA.

This easy-going lad from Iowa excels in athletics, optimism, and good nature.

ESTHER ESCH
MIO, MICH.

Although small in stature she has high ideals. She always smiles as she goes about her work.

CARL METZLER
NAPPANEE, IND.

"Metz" would rather say nothing than talk about nothing. Like Hoover he was brought up on the farm. He never worries, but is always calm and happy.

HELEN LONG
GOSHEN, IND.

The only one who has taken all four years of work here. She is an industrious girl, a willing and kind hearted classmate.

EZRA BEACHY
SHERWOOD, O.

This "Buckeye" lad is a serious-minded, conscientious worker.

MARY WIDMER
WAYLAND, IA.

Mary is not easily influenced in her way of thinking. Open-hearted frankness and straight-forwardness characterize her.

EDGAR FREY
ARCHBOLD, O.

The jolly, joking "Jack" is the only member in the class of fractional quantity. He is always busy and bears the spirit of Goshen College wherever he goes.

HILDA BYLER
L'TOUR, MO.

A lover of music and of that which is beautiful. Her ambitious and sympathetic nature will readily qualify her for her future plans—"a nurse".

LENA GRABER
NOBLE, IA.

This quiet, unassuming maiden has resources for every occasion. What she does she does well without advertising it.

BILL J. ABSHIRE
GOSHEN, IND.

This "Bill" who came to our class this year was very welcome. If you wish to see a business man in the making, don't overlook him.

GERALD JACOBS
JOHNSTOWN, PA.

Although he has been with us only a short time, we have learned to appreciate his friendship. His ability and will power give ample assurance of a bright future.

ROZELLA GRAMLEY
FREEPORT, ILL.

Rozella is a good friend from Illinois and an industrious worker. Her qualities are helpfulness and punctuality, and she is a lover of home life.

BERTHA BUTTE
MILLERSBURG, IND.

Beneath a quiet surface lies a lot of fun and playfulness. Bertha is a good friend.

Academy Principal's Message

The aim of the Academy is not chiefly to prepare a selected group of young people for college entrance, as its name implies, but to serve the large group of young people who in the past were not permitted or perhaps not so situated as to take advantage of an early secondary education. Many of these young people feel they would like a practical academy course, but do not expect to pursue education any further. Society in its development is constantly demanding of its members many new adjustments. In view of this fact, constant endeavor is made to develop the physical, intellectual, social, moral, and spiritual life of the student. We think that a student who has been developed only physically, intellectually, and socially is not yet prepared to serve his fellowmen to the best advantage; therefore an unusual amount of emphasis is placed upon the development of the moral and spiritual aspects of the life of the student. Society today has created a demand for higher education. The question as to whether or not we should educate our young people has been decided for many years. The question now is where shall we educate them? Today many of our young people are attending educational institutions whose influence tends to draw them away from the principles of the Faith, the Church, and God.

The Academy offers to students many advantages which are not available in the regular high school. The students have free access to the college laboratories, library, and athletic equipment. The social and spiritual contacts with the more mature college students is a decided advantage. The students can participate in many extra-curricular activities, such as literary societies, choruses, and nature clubs. A wholesome religious atmosphere is fostered by the Young People's Christian Association in its various activities. Other inspiring meetings from which the student may receive benefit are chapel addresses and public lectures.

During the past few years a number of changes have been made in the organization of the Academy. The plan of maintaining a study hall for the lower classmen, in charge of an instructor, has resulted in a marked improvement over the former plan of studying in the reading room of the college library. The honor roll, a new feature of the Academy, has stimulated the student body to more effective work. During the past year new subjects, such as German and Educational Guidance, were added to the curriculum. The Guidance course was designed with the aim of teaching the student the purpose and value of each of the high school subjects; to develop the student to more effective study; to develop and direct such abilities as the student may have to an abiding life interest. Three types of courses are offered in the Academy: a college preparatory course for students wishing to prepare for college entrance; a general course for students who are not expecting to enter college; and a Bible course for students who desire to procure a greater knowledge of the Word of God.

The Bible School

Goshen College offers its students a wide range of courses in the Bible School. The curriculum of the Bible School is biblio-centric. It draws most of its materials directly from the Bible text and places especial emphasis on the text of the English Bible. Students who wish to make a more thorough study of the Scriptures may pursue courses in the original Hebrew and Greek of the Old and New Testaments. While the curriculum is centered in the Bible, the intrinsic value of closely related courses is also recognized. Church history is of value in tracing the development and application of Christianity through the centuries; doctrinal theology gathers the cardinal ideas of Christianity into a working system; practical theology and religious education attempt the discovery of the best methods that can be used in applying Christianity to our present-day needs. Ample provision is made in the curriculum for these related courses.

The interest of the students in the courses of the Bible School is gratifying. More than one half of the college students register in one or more Bible courses. Four groups of students are interested in the work of the department. The first includes those who choose some of their elective courses in Bible. This number is increasing each year. The second group is interested in a distinctively Bible course, and a two year curriculum has been arranged to meet their needs. One student is graduating from this course this year. The third group select their major for the B. A. degree in Bible, and prepare in this way for direct Christian service. A fourth group selects a larger amount of the advanced Bible courses, either in the senior year or after graduation from the Liberal Arts course, and apply these credits for advanced standing at the graduate theological seminary. Students who have followed this last course have continued their graduate work in the seminary with gratifying success.

The course of study for the Special Bible Term has been revised and made more attractive to our young people. The new courses are organized in such a way that each book of the Old and New Testaments will have been studied in a cycle of six terms of six weeks each. A number of related courses are also offered, such as Biblical Introduction, Biblical Geography and History, Sunday School Teacher Training, Pastoral Work, Church History, and Music. The first section of this course was offered this year under the able instruction of L. W. Royer.

A permanent feature of the Bible School is the annual Minister's Week and the Christian Life Conference held at the close of the Special Bible Term. The usual enthusiasm for these projects was in evidence again this year. The programs that were arranged attracted a large number of ministers and young people. Lectures were given in the ministers' sessions on the work of the pastor, evangelism, present day problems of the ministry and Bible study. The most inspiring feature of the Christian Life Conference was the participation of the young people. It was evident from their addresses and discussions that they are at grips with the issues of Christian life and experience.

ORGANIZATIONS

Young People's Christain Association

FORREST KANAGY
President Y. M. C. A.

The Y. P. C. A. believes it is necessary for students to maintain a personal relationship with Christ and has therefore chosen as its primary aim and purpose the task of providing opportunities and inducements for each student to enter into a more intimate fellowship with Christ, as well as with his fellow-students.

To carry out this program the following standing committees are organized: Devotional, Bible Study, Mission Study, Extension, Membership, Social, Employment, and Finance. The chairmen of these committees with the President and Secretary compose the Cabinet. This organization is identical for both the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. The two groups are united in the Y. P. C. A. which takes up all matters that interest both. All of the committees have carried on active work during the year.

In the Thursday afternoon meetings the Devotional Committee has emphasized the necessity of the devotional life of the student, both private and public. Some of these meetings have been conjoint, others separate for the men and the women.

Several socials, notably the Get-Acquainted Socials, which were held during the first week of school and again after the Christmas vacation, were sponsored by the Social Committee. During the summer of 1928 the Extension Committee conducted a Mission Sunday School at the White Brick School House, and also carried on its work at the jail and gave programs at various churches throughout the year. Eight Tuesday evening study classes were well attended. During the first semester Bible Study was approached through such books as "Christian Ethics", "Things Most Surely Believed", "The Many-Sided David". Missionary history and biography were studied by the use of such representative books as "The New Africa", and "The Christ of the Indian Road", during the second semester. The Wednesday evening prayer meetings are also conducted by the Y. P. C. A.

The students responded very liberally to the call for funds. Of the $1,000 pledged, $500 went for new Chapel Hall seats, $75 for the support of M. C. Lehman, $100 for local expenses, and the remaining $325 was divided between Missions and Endowment. In addition, both the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. raised over one hundred dollars each to carry on their regular work.

Those who are going out to face the world as well as those who will remain here for another year or more, should not slack their efforts, but press forward, by the grace of God, to greater things which lie before.

The Students' Council

PRESIDENT	- - - - -	CHARLES SCHLITZER
VICE-PRESIDENT	- - - - -	ELLIS HOSTETLER
SECRETARY	- - - - -	ARDIS EBERSOLE

The purpose of the Council is to give the students through the Council an opportunity to promote and maintain the best possible standards of college life and work. Its work therefore resolves into that of mediators between the students and the Faculty. It may not have accomplished this ideal of the Council, for the organization was not active for a few years and the students attained these standards through the effort of other organizations. The goal therefore has been to establish a functioning Student Council. The attempt has been earnest and the accomplishments worth the effort.

The most successful of all the attempts was the Courtesy Week program. The program consisted of talks by students each morning in Chapel for a week, on many phases of courtesy. The response was very gratifying.

Definite function is necessary for the continued usefulness of any organization, and we sincerely believe there is a worthy field of endeavor for the Student Council.

—CHARLES SCHLITZER.

Christain Workers' Band

PRESIDENT - - - - - FRANK RABER

SECRETARY - - - - - IRENE LEHMAN

The phase of activity in which this organization has been interested most is that of receiving information and comparing fields with a continued search in our own lives as to our fitness and ability to serve.

This year the Band has held its meetings on Sunday morning at six-thirty. Besides the many good things received from the meetings the inspiration of the early hour has been very much worthwhile.

The aims of the Band have been considered again and the problems of the individual Christian, of the church, of the Christian world, and others have been discussed. Too we have faced the subject of missions.

Many of our speakers both within our group and those from without showed that our first duty and privilege is to be true and ever loyal to our Christ in everyday life.

Inspired by these meetings, the Band has resolved to do Christian work as the opportunity is presented. It has distributed literature, visited the sick and aged, and done some canvassing to get children who do not attend a Sunday School to do so.

—FRANK RABER.

Foreign Volunteer Band

PRESIDENT - - - - - WM. E. HALLMAN

SECRETARY - - - - - LOIS LAPP

"Every Christian a Missionary" is an appeal which all have heard. Many say they will give of means and prayer but more should be willing to go. Willingness to go wherever God wills is a result of true consecration to Him. And He does expect true consecration from each.

This year the Band has turned its attention to the study of Latin America, using the book, "New Days in Latin America", by Dr. Browning. The concluding chapter is of genuine merit and cuts to the quick as it makes its appeal for workers.

Following this study, President S. C. Yoder brought interesting messages on the beginning of Mennonite work in Argentina. Then Beatrice Hershey spoke on the location of mission stations, the workers, and their tasks. The Band was fortunate in having a few profitable meetings with Miss Gamber and Miss Hallman in which they vividly portrayed the needs of a country which know only a Dead Christ!

—But the call of a Living Christ, who has come into our lives, now urges us on to tell others of Him!

—WM. E. HALLMAN.

The Audubon Society

PRESIDENT	-	-	KATIE M. SMUCKER
VICE PRESIDENT	-	-	JOHN LEHMAN
SECRETARY	-	-	MARY MUSSelman
TREASURER	-	-	ADA THURSTON

For those students definitely interested in the great out of doors, the Goshen College Audubon Society holds an important place. The aim of the Society is to attract birds to the campus to stimulate interest in bird study, and to more fully appreciate bird life.

Winter feeding on the campus proved interesting. Illustrated lectures, individual reports and experiences were especially instructive. Professor Witmer's official bird banding resulted in exceptional findings again this year. Numerous field trips helped the members become acquainted with birds in their native haunts, note their song, as well as watch their migration.

Growth has shown increasing interest in the Society, for the membership at present is the largest in its history.

—KATIE SMUCKER.

Mennonite Historical Society

PRESIDENT	-	-	PROFESSOR HAROLD S. BENDER
SECRETARY	-	-	PROFESSOR SILAS HERTZLER

The Mennonite Historical Society has again had a good year in 1928-29. The five regular programs brought strong speakers to the College. The programs, which were well attended, were as follows: November 17, "Pictures from Four Hundred Years", by H. S. Bender; December 7, "Mennonites in Russia Since the War", by A. J. Miller; January 18, "Mennonite Life in the Land of the Czars", by G. H. Enss; February 28, "Mennonites and Old-Evangelicals of Europe", by H. P. Krehbiel; April 5, "Mennonites in Reconstruction Work in France Ten Years Ago", by J. C. Meyer.

Again this year numerous valuable additions to the Mennonite Historical Library have been made. During the summer of 1928 the President of the Society collected a large amount of material in Ontario and Eastern Pennsylvania. Due to the increase in the size of the collection, the Library and Society Room were removed from the third floor of the Administration Building to Room 14 on the first floor where a number of large book-cases had been built. Progress has also been made in the publication projects of the Society. Five volumes will be published by midsummer.

A change was made in the organization of the Society. A Board of Directors composed of twelve persons, each serving for a term of three years, one-third of whom must be students, was elected, which is directly responsible for the work of the Society.

—H. S. BENDER.

Review of Literary Activities

HOWARD Y. MUSSELMAN
Pres. S. L. A.

Since the time when the first Literary Society was organized in the Elkhart Institute in 1896, this phase of extra-curricular activity has been a major feature of the life of Goshen College. Although the purposes and aims of the first debating clubs may have been changed somewhat through the years, Goshen College Literary Societies still have as their fundamental aim, that of developing self-expression among their members. Now, however, the emphasis is not so much on oratory and debate as it once was, although it still has a prominent place. Instead, other forms of expression such as musical interpretation, discussion and composition are stressed.

There are several organizations which are dependent for their existence upon literary society activity. Each society elects two representatives to the Inter-Society Council which functions in solicitation of new members and all other matters of inter-society interest. Cecil Bender has served as president during the past year. The Student Library Association has again functioned in a creditable manner, furnishing many additional, much-needed books to the fast-growing library. Under the leadership of Howard Musselman, this expression of loyalty from the members of the literary societies has been an important part of literary work. Still another outgrowth of literary work is the Student Lecture Committee. This Committee in co-operation with the Faculty Lecture Committee has presented an unusually strong series of programs this year.

One of the developments of literary work this year has been the revival of the public literary programs. Under a new arrangement two conjoint literary programs were presented in Assembly Hall Monday afternoons during the first semester, while two other public programs were given during the second semester on Friday evenings. Both the Avon-Aurora and Vesperian-Adelphian programs were enthusiastically received by audiences that filled the Assembly Hall. Originality was the keynote in both programs which amply demonstrated the wealth of talent on the campus. Original stories, readings, addresses, and excellent musical numbers were not only presented but originality was also displayed in lighting and decorating.

The annual Vesperian Tea on the 15th of March was no doubt the climax of the year's activity. With St. Patrick's Day as the central theme much of educational and inspirational value about the life and customs of Ireland was presented in this altogether charming program of music, readings, and dialogue. Especially effective were the representations depicting typical Irish folk.

Home Economics Club

PRESIDENT	-	-	-	ESTHER L. ROTH
VICE-PRESIDENT	-	-	-	RUTH MILLER
SECRETARY	-	-	-	FYRNE MILLER
TREASURER	-	-	-	ESTHER LEININGER
FACULTY ADVISOR	-	-	-	MISS WITMER

The Home Economics Club is one of the more recent organizations of Goshen College. In the Spring of 1928, Miss Witmer, Head of the Home Economics Department, together with those girls who were especially interested in Home Economics felt that there should be some kind of organization in which they could get together and become more fully acquainted with the field of work. After several meetings the Goshen College Home Economics Club was organized and officers were elected but no active work was accomplished until the Fall of 1928.

As stated in the constitution the object of this Club is to develop a professional spirit among the members and to keep in touch with the current topics of the Home Economics world. Any girl in the school who has had twelve hours of Home Economics may become an active member and on the completion of nine hours of work one may become an associate member. The club meets once a month on Tuesday evening at four o'clock in the Home Economics rooms. These meetings are open to all who are interested.

The programs of the year have been varied in both type and content. In the December meeting, Mrs. Gustav H. Enss told of Russian Home Life and the Club found it very interesting to learn to know under what conditions the people of that large nation live. At a later meeting Professor Sprunger, of the Art Department, spoke on the subject, "Pictures for the Home". Professor Sprunger showed various types of pictures which both were and were not suitable for our homes and also emphasized the influence which the frame has upon the picture. Mrs. Bender spoke to the Club on Germany and thus we were given another opportunity to become acquainted with other countries. Other subjects discussed by the Club were "Home Economics in Goshen College", "Prominent Women in the Home Economics World", and "Literature for the Home".

The Home Economics Club is yet in its youth but it is growing and as it grows its influence is felt more and we learn to appreciate its worth. Five new members were voted into the Club at the end of the first semester and there are several more who will be eligible for membership at the end of the year.

Our wish is that it continue the work it has done, doing its part in building up the Home Economics Department of Goshen College.

Science Club

PRESIDENT	-	-	-	F. S. MARTIN
VICE-PRESIDENT	-	-	-	C. K. BENDER
SECRETARY	-	-	-	DULA ROTH
TREASURER	-	-	-	PAUL HORSCH
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEMBER				PROFESSOR S. W. WITMER

The Science Club of Goshen College has closed its second year of active work with an appreciable and pleasing measure of growth and accomplishments.

At a meeting early in the school year, it was decided that for the best interest of the Club the rigid requirements for membership should be dropped. Formerly only those who had completed twelve hours of work in either biological or physical science were eligible for membership. The change of policy made it possible for all those who are interested in science and the program of the Club to become members. The result was that membership for the year numbered between fifty and sixty.

At the beginning of the year the Club arranged for fifteen programs. Meetings were held once every two weeks on Wednesday evening at seven fifteen in Aurora Hall. Of the fifteen lectures six were given by visiting lecturers who are specialists in some field of science. Dr. W. O. Vallette, M. D., D. S., Goshen, Indiana, spoke on "Your Mouth and Your Health"; Dr. H. B. Froning, Ph. D., head of the department of Chemistry and Chemical Engineering of Notre Dame University, on "Catalysis in Biological Reactions"; Mr. V. D. Bidlack, chief chemist of the O'Brien Paint and Varnish Company, South Bend, Indiana, on "A Survey of the Varnish Industry"; Mr. Erle Hutchison, of the A. E. Kunderd Gladiolus Farms, on "The Development of the Gladiolus"; Dr. John Kauffman, D. O., Goshen, Indiana, on "The Scientific Basis of Osteopathy"; and Mr. Arthur L. Smith, M. A., Eureka, Illinois, on "Plant Life in the Mountains of Utah". The two latter speakers are former students of Goshen College.

The remaining lectures were presented by professors and students of the college. Professor D. V. Tieszen, Professor D. A. Lehman, and Miss Edith Witmer presented lectures on "Atoms and Ether Waves"; "The Stars and the Planets" (Illustrated), and "Home Economics and Scientific Progress", respectively.

The students who discussed scientific subjects were F. S. Martin, Ralph Myers, LeRoy Hostetler, Henry Bohn, Howard Musselman, and John Lehman.

The annual Science Club banquet was held May 30 and was probably the biggest event of the year for the Club. The speaker for the evening was Dr. Samuel Stevens, of the Psychology Department of Northwestern University.

The aim of the Science Club has been to stimulate an interest on the part of the students in the fields of science and to influence interested students in carrying out into the field of science the spirit of our college motto, "Culture for Service".

In view of the fact that the endowment program is now in full swing it seems peculiarly appropriate to print in this issue of the MAPLE LEAF a short statement of the avocations of our graduates. An endowment campaign is truly a time of heart searching. Of what value is the school? Are its graduates making vital contributions to the cause of Society and the Church? These and similar questions are to the fore. Conscious that no statistics can completely answer such questions, for the results must be measured in human and spiritual values, the editors nevertheless reprint these figures from the Endowment Bulletin in the hope that they may offer some testimony as to the efficacy of the ideals for which the institution stands.

It is trite but true that the four years spent in a college are among the best years of one's life. After graduation we realize also that what made these years so fruitful was the spirit of fellowship, of camaraderie. How can this spirit of youth be maintained? Certainly it is worth while to make the attempt. It is the aim of the Alumni organization to keep alive this spirit, to constantly renew the old associations. Will our graduates co-operate?

The Board of Directors has proposed a change of policy which they feel will tend toward this goal. The Board is to be enlarged to eighteen members, the Alumni News Letter is to be enlarged and enlivened, more emphasis is to be placed on the Alumni Endowment Campaign, and ex-students as well as graduates are to be given the opportunity of becoming members of the Association. All this will enable each Alumnus to keep in more intimate touch with his fellows and will intensify the spirit of comradeship and loyalty to his Alma Mater.

ACTIVITIES

Music

B. F. HARTZLER, Director
the public better music. This year has been no exception and the outlook for the coming year is most gratifying.

A new method for enlisting members was given a trial this year. In previous years those who wished to become members were obliged to pass successfully a special examination in tone quality and sight reading. This procedure eliminated many who had a deep interest in chorus work. The director, Professor B. F. Hartzler, thought it more advisable to dispense with this examination and allow all who had an interest in chorus work to join the organizations, with the understanding that at Christmas time there would be an elimination of those members who were not taking a vital interest in the work, and were a hindrance rather than a help to the chorus.

The Ladies' Chorus consisting of thirty-two members had a number of outstanding pieces such as: "By the Waters of Babylon" (Nerdlinger); "Jesu, Word of God Incarnate" (Harris); "O Holy Father" (Moduati); "Adore and Be Still" (Gounod-Warhuse); "Come Where the Lilies Bloom" (Thompson); "Dinah" (Clayton Johns); "The Skylark" (F. Mendelssohn); "Flower of Dreams" (Clokey); "De Sandman" (Protheroe).

Thirty-three members compose the Male Chorus and a few of their outstanding numbers are "Holy Art Thou" (Handel); "Hallelujah Chorus" (Handel); and "Deep River" and "Heav'n", negro spirituals arranged by Burleigh.

The A Cappella Chorus with a few additions was composed of the combined Men's and Ladies' Choruses, numbering sixty-six. "Goin' Home" (Dvorak); "Lord Our God Have Mercy" (Lvovsky); "Ave Maris Stella" (E. Grieg); "Alleluia, Christ is Risen" (Kopolyoff); "Carol of Russian Children" (H. Gaul); "Rejoice and Sing" and "All Darkness Flies" (Bach), and "Hallelujah Chorus" (Handel), were their special features. These organizations have been privileged to render a number of programs in neighboring churches and high schools where they have been well received.

It has been said that "Music rules the natural world". God's great organ is nature; the stars are the keys. The fife of the winds, the whish of the bird's song, these are part of Nature's great orchestra. The chirping robin, the twittering swallow, the caroling lark, the warbling canary, these are part of nature's great choir. "Everything that hath breath doth declare that music rules the world of nature."

Under the efficient direction of Professor B. F. Hartzler, the A Cappella Chorus has produced a repertoire of superior music, and has set a noteworthy standard of choral singing in the annals of Goshen College music. It has appeared in numerous programs together with the other choruses in and around the city of Goshen and in Chicago, Illinois, and Berne, Indiana.

The organization numbers sixty-six members and includes in addition to the Ladies' and Men's Choruses the following altos and sopranos:

Forensic Review

Debating and other forms of public speaking have received their share of interest and attention during the present school year. Not only have participants in the various contests shown admirable preparation, but the college community has been generous in its support.

The various class organizations manifested keen interest in the year's series of inter-class debates. The Freshmen put an exceptionally strong team in the field but won their tilt with the Sophomores by a bare 2-1 decision. The latter seem to be unfortunate. In spite of being strong favorites to win last year and this, they lost both contests by the same narrow margin. They are not discouraged, however, and, with several seasoned debaters as a nucleus for next year's team, they are sure to give a good account of themselves when, as Juniors, they meet the Class of 1930 that barely nosed out a victory last year.

The Juniors now have one victory out of three contests. This class, with its bare twenty-five per cent of men who always have been drafted to bear more than their share of extra-curricular burdens, has never been able to place more than one experienced debater on any team. Their prospects are better for next year, since this year's entire team plans to return next fall.

The Class of '29 enjoys an enviable record in debating. This class, just a quarter of a century younger than the first college class to graduate from Goshen College, is celebrating that fact by completing four years of inter-class debating without a single defeat. The team is unique in other respects. It has consisted for the past three years of the same four men: Cecil Bender, Paul Horsch, F. S. Martin, and L. J. Martin.

One regrettable feature of the inter-class contests this year was the absence of women's debates. The women of classes '29 and '31, each with a victory to their credit, seemed unwilling to risk their laurels in another contest. In past years, the women's debates have surpassed some of the men's in finish, interest, and enthusiasm. It is hoped that they may be resumed next year.

In number of contestants, in excellence of platform work, and in general interest to the college community, the B. F. Deahl Annual Peace Oratorical Contest surpassed any in recent years. John Bender, Otto Binkele, Ellis Hostetler, Loren King, and Lewis Yordy participated. Professors Hershberger and Cressman graded the manuscripts. Principal O. L. Walter of Goshen City High School and Rev. H. F. Stuckman, pastor of the First Brethren Church of Goshen, judged delivery. Although the judges placed Otto Binkele first on delivery, the excellence of John Bender's manuscript won him the first prize, fifteen dollars in gold, for his oration, "Imperialism and Peace". The second prize, ten dollars, was awarded to Ellis Hostetler, and the third, five dollars, to Otto Binkele.

Great enthusiasm prevailed among the members of the student body when Mr. Deahl authorized the announcement that next year he would offer thirty dollars in gold as prizes for a similar contest for the women of the college. Details are being worked out and a number of women have already expressed their intention of entering.

The annual discussion contest, after suffering something of a decline last year, has enlisted the interest of the largest number of men in its history. On account of a crowded extra-curricular schedule and the two trips of the Men's Chorus the date has been twice postponed. The results will not be known before the Maple Leaf goes to press.

The Lecture Committee is composed of the chairman, Professor S. W. Witmer, and a representative from each literary society. This committee upon aid and advice of the faculty lecture committee and in action with them, selects the best talent available, in consideration of finances, for the year's lecture course. The committee takes charge of the sale of tickets and publicity. The loyal support of the student body and college community filled the auditorium for every one of the series of instructive and interesting lectures.

"Travels in the Australian Bush", by Captain Kilroy Harris was an illustrated travelogue through "a land of magnificent distances". "The Castles and Legends of the Rhine", by Professor B. R. Baumgardt was also a travelogue illustrated with beautiful views taken along the Rhine in Germany.

"Imitations of Bird Songs and Colored Pictures of Birds", was given by Charles Crawford Gorst. Mr. Gorst can imitate over eight hundred songs of some two hundred fifty species of birds so truly that he can actually deceive the birds themselves. The exhibition of his own paintings of birds was indeed interesting.

No Yong Park gave a very informing lecture on the political situation in China. This was an extra number and especially attractive from the fact that Mr. Park is himself a native of China.

"Everyday Poetry" by Anne Campbell was a vital and interesting analysis of the task of the newspaper poet and how she meets it; where she gets the inspiration for her many poems. It was graphically illustrated by readings from the author's own works.

J. Malcolm Bird presented a lecture on "The Present Status of Spirit Phenomena". Mr. Bird is a noted scientist and has been investigating psychic phenomena and deciding whether these curious manifestations occur genuinely.

The plans for next year's series indicates another instructive lyceum season. It is hoped that a few musical numbers may appear on the program.

The Maple Leaf of 1929

Goshen College stands on the threshold of a new era. The new John S. Coffman Hall, the splendid progress of the Endowment Campaign, and the addition of a Department of Commerce and Finance to the curriculum are only outward signs of an inward growth of loyalty and consecration to the cause of Mennonite Education on the part of both students and constituents. The 1929 Staff has endeavored to make this, the fourteenth volume in a series of annuals devoted to Goshen College, a worthy annual for the inauguration of the new era.

To avoid fixing the policy of a standardized book in plan and content, the 1929 MAPLE LEAF has differed from past editions wherever this has been possible without sacrificing any worthy feature. The enlarged Administrative and Senior sections are illustrative of such innovations. The art motif is an architectural one taken entirely from details about the entrance to Science Hall. The cover design is taken from the head piece, torches are used as borders, the ex libris represents an entrance lamp, while the division pages are a side view of the doorway upon which is inserted a familiar campus view.

The task has been a difficult one but the Staff has labored diligently in the hope that the 1929 MAPLE LEAF may be an album of familiar faces and a record of a happy year spent at Goshen College.

The College Record is a combined literary production and College newspaper, serving as a vehicle for disposition of student masterpieces (?), and as a chronicle of campus thought and activity. It is a College publication, edited entirely by students, under proper Faculty supervision.

As the chief, and sometimes only, point of contact between the College and its ex-students, prospective students, and other friends, the Record above all attempts to reflect fairly and accurately the student life on the campus. We have attempted to acquaint students with the activities of their associates, and have encouraged expression of constructive student thought. We have attempted to make it a true College Record.

In surveying retrospectively the thirtieth year of publication just completed, we feel with satisfaction that we have advanced one small step nearer the ideal, and consider the year successful.

The Maple Leaf Sales Contest

For the enthusiastic and able assistance of the student body in the sales of the 1929 MAPLE LEAF the Staff expresses its gratitude. The record sales of 750 books from a student body of only slightly more than 200 is a record of which to be proud. For this the students are responsible.

During the months of December and January, a two-fold sales contest was held. In the individual contest these students proved the calibre of their salesmanship.

New Program of Athletics

Every educational institution has some point about which school spirit and enthusiasm centers. In the vast majority of colleges this object is the varsity athletic team. However, many educators have come to believe that inter-collegiate sports have been over-emphasized, and are attempting to shift that emphasis to a more cultural basis. This has long been the policy of Goshen College. Instead of the varsity team, school spirit has rallied behind the glee club or debating team.

The ideal athletic system as conceived by Goshen College is a strong system of physical education and intramural sports. Two years ago a reorganization of the athletic policy created two associations, the Men's and the Women's Athletic Associations, instead of the previous single Athletic Association. Each Association has a simple organization consisting of a president, vice-president, and secretary. These officials with the directors of physical education and the faculty chairman of athletics make up the Athletic Council which formulates and controls the general policies of the organizations. The major sports are promoted and directed by special committees. The financing of the program is unique. Every enrolled student is a member of his respective organization and a per capita appropriation is paid from the incidental fee.

Unfortunately, however, the expected improvements from this reorganization have not been fully realized. Each year has seen a lack of progress if not an actual relapse. The calibre and type of basketball for instance has deteriorated instead of showing a gradual healthy growth in quality. A meeting of the Men's Athletic Association held on April 8 reviewed the situation. Their conclusions virtually agreed with the findings of the Faculty Committee. It has crystallized into the following program which may well point to the future of athletics at Goshen College.

1. The past few years' experience has demonstrated that an athletic program cannot be satisfactorily directed by a student organization whose personnel and policies change from year to year. A director of physical education and athletics who will devote the major portion of his time to such work is needed. This will make possible a unified and enlarged program which will raise the standard of work and sportsmanship.

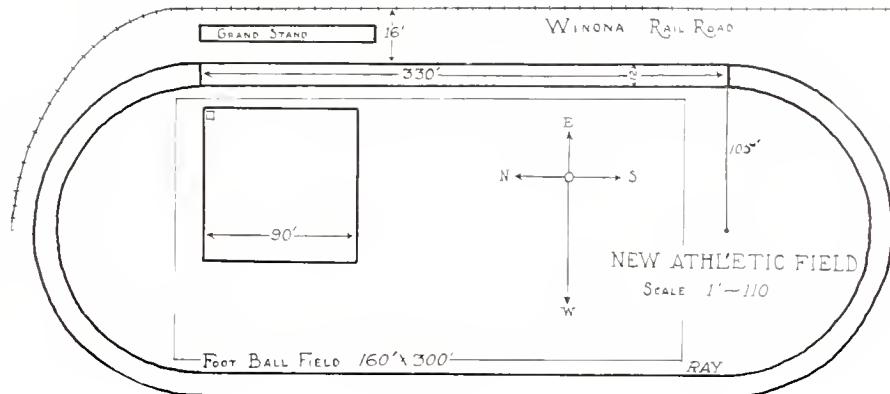

2. Credits in physical education will be required for graduation from College. This will meet an urgent need. Physical education actually is the sum of man's physical activities. Its worth depends on the kind of activities pursued and the leadership of the activities. It is not merely health promotion, its function is education with a two-fold purpose. First, it seeks to develop the vital resources of the individual, to educate him in the use of the human body in activities which will bring satisfaction. Second, it aims to educate in the wholesome use of leisure time in desirable recreational forms, to participate in and to enjoy many interesting motor and dramatic activities.

3. Stimulation of athletic endeavor and initiative will be promoted by adopting a system of awards for achievements and prowess.

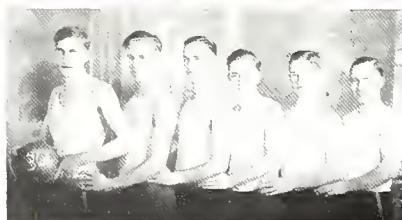

4. The erection of the new dormitory has destroyed the existing athletic field. An adequate grounds for the various sports is to be provided.

It is gratifying to state that substantial steps have been taken toward fulfilling all of these points except the third. The position of physical director for men has already been filled. The College has leased ground which is being graded and prepared to fill the needs of an institution of Goshen's size. The field will have a regulation gridiron for such fall sports as soccer and speedball, a baseball diamond, a quarter-mile track with a 100-yard straight-away, and ample space for field events. The field should be ready for use by the fall of 1929. With these improvements and periodic additions to the equipment already at hand the future of athletics at Goshen College looks bright.

To the future Goshen College athlete—may he ever be "clear-eyed, cool-headed, and clean-hearted—a sound mind in a sound body."

Men's Basketball

The class league opened November 14 with a 16-11 victory for the Freshmen from the Seniors. Before the season had advanced far it was evident that the Sophomores and Freshmen were the serious rivals. The Seniors had a team of good tall possibilities but they were at no time serious contenders. The Juniors fought pluckily with little seasoned material while the Academy withdrew after one defeat. During the second semester the two latter teams combined but did not succeed in bettering their lot.

In the first round of tournament play on March 15, the Seniors defeated the Junior-Academy team 17-13 while the Freshmen vanquished their rivals, the Sophomores, 24-13. In the second round the Seniors were eliminated 8-23 and the Junior-Academy team 6-19. After a hard fought final game (18-24) the Freshmen emerged from the season's fray with a no-defeat record.

The Aurora team succeeded in marring the almost perfect record of the Adelphians who had been beaten but once in four years. Of the three games of the season the Auroras won two, 20-17, 18-20, 21-16. All were close and intensely interesting.

Women's Basketball

The year has witnessed an exceedingly close contest for the Women's Basketball Championship. All of the teams were uniformly matched and most of the games ended in a close score.

A new percentage system was adopted for determining the championship. The team scoring the greatest number of points was taken as a standard upon which the other teams were graded. In the tournament the teams taking first, second, and third place were given 100, 75, and 50 per cent, respectively. These averaged with the year's percentage determined the championship.

The tournament like the season was exceedingly close. The final game between the Sophomore and the Junior teams was a tie 23-23. The deciding game was won by the Juniors, 15-22.

In the literary games the Vesperians were easily the winners with the Homeric girls second.

Tennis Review

The spring tennis season for Goshen College opened the third week of March, when the Tennis Committee reported three courts in good playing condition, and reached its height when two weeks later courts numbers four and five were pressed into service to meet the ever-growing demand.

The interest in tennis this spring far surpasses that of the past few years. Almost every afternoon all of the five courts are in constant use. Many students are rapidly learning the game, and the more seasoned players who are aspiring for championships are putting in many hours of faithful practice. The high quality of the tennis being played in the tournaments proves it.

Thirty-two men entered the Men's Singles Tournament this spring. In the early rounds it soon became evident that Ed Roupp, Paul Horsch, Jonathan Yoder, Leonard Kreider, and Nelson Starr were showing the best form. Roupp met Horsch in the finals, amid much speculation as to the probable winner. Everyone knew that Roupp would use the "drive", while Horsch would continue with his characteristic "chop" stroke. Could Horsch "chop" Roupp's "drive"? Horsch proved that he could, to the satisfaction of all on May the second when he won his third successive Men's Singles Championship, this time by the score of 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

There was also a very live interest in the Women's Singles this year when Helen Eby, our outstanding Freshman player, successively defeated three of the highest ranking players among the women. First she won from Alta Brenneman, 6-0, 7-5; next she defeated Ruth V. Yoder, 6-3, 6-1, then making herself champion on May 16 by winning from Mary Martin, 6-1, 9-7.

Although the Women's Doubles have not yet been fully played, the "knowing ones" tell us it will be between the Junior team, Lois Lapp and Alta Brenneman, and the Senior team, Ruth V. Yoder and Pearl Detweiler.

The Men's Doubles Championship appears to lie between the Junior team, Roupp and Kanagy, and the Freshman team composed of Starr and Bradford.

The Mixed Doubles Tournament has not yet progressed far enough to even predict the possible winners, but the following teams are showing the best form: Eby and Starr, Pearl Detweiler and Jonathan Yoder, Ruth V. Yoder and Leonard Kreider, and Mary Martin and Professor Cressman.

Tennis this spring has been a decided success, while the outlook for tennis on our campus next year is very promising. May this game—promoter of wholesome exercise, clean fun, and good sportsmanship—continue to find favor among the students of Goshen College.

—LEONARD KREIDER.

Minor Sports Review

Tennis and Basketball hold the position of major sports but other lines of activity have received some attention. In the fall and spring some interest in baseball was shown and a few "pick-up" games were played but no class league schedule was possible. It is hoped that the new athletic field will revive interest.

The erection of the new dormitory destroyed the track so that these events had to be omitted from the spring schedule. The field meet held on May 24 resulted in a victory for the Freshmen.

Class scores were:

FRESHMAN	-----	34
SOPHOMORE	-----	26
ACADEMY	-----	19
SENIOR	-----	13

Volley ball and horseshoe received slight attention. The general decrease of interest in athletics this year was especially evident among the minor sports.

The skating season was exceptionally long and fine and the student body made full use of its opportunities.

Sharon Brunk took all the jumps and was high point man with 22 points. Wm. Bradford came second with 15 points from the shot puts and baseball throw. Daniel Hershberger took third place with 11 points. Only one record was broken, Wm. Bradford raising the 12-pound shot put record from 38' 2" to 40' 8".

The Women's Athletic Association

The Women's Athletic Association as it is now organized was introduced in the spring of 1927. The constitution was drawn up and the Executive Committee made up of the president, vice-president, and secretary was elected, but the organization did not function until the opening of the school term in the fall.

Last year was, therefore, largely an experimental or pioneer one. We feel that we blazed the trail in the right direction for we see some of our aims accomplished: the stimulation of interest in an intramural athletic program, the participation of all girls in some form of physical recreation, the development of skill in athletic games, and the cultivation of a sportsmanlike attitude. The managers of the various sports in co-operation with the Executive Committee and the Faculty Athletic Committee are responsible for arousing the interest, for supervising the organization and the arranging of contests in the various sports: tennis, basketball, track, hiking, baseball, and volleyball. The point system incorporated in the constitution and by-laws probably has stimulated interest and encouraged participation in our intramural program more than any other feature of the organization. This system makes it possible for any Goshen College girl to win a monogram, "G. C.". Energetic upperclass girls find their class numeral within reach, but only those who for several years strive for the mastery obtain the coveted W. A. A. sweater.

Last year a number of girls received the monogram awards. This year we have a few more "letter" girls on the campus and a few "numerals", and before commencement one of our persevering, energetic, and industrious seniors may earn her sweater.

COLLEGE LIFE

Samuel H. Plank

Samuel H. Plank died December 26, 1923 at his home in Goshen. For twenty years (1905-25) he had been Superintendent of Grounds at the College and through his unfailing kindness of heart and purpose had become the firm friend of all who knew him. "Uncle Sam", as he was affectionately known by the various student generations, was an integral part of the institution, a Christian character if ever there was one. With a noble heart he inspired many to nobler thoughts and kindly deeds. His serenity of soul, his sincerity of expression, his fatherly counsel and his never-failing smile will be deeply missed. We sincerely mourn his passing. His life was a testimony for his Master, and an inspiration to all.

The Calendar

SEPTEMBER

WEDNESDAY 12—First registration. Everybody happy to see everybody else back.—

THURSDAY 13—More students arrive and register. Girls' party and "stag" party in evening.

FRIDAY 14—Big "Get-Acquainted" Social.

SUNDAY 16—The dam's old pals visit it again. Some students are thinking quite seriously of home.

WEDNESDAY 19—Nine girls "blossom out" in the Men's Chorus sweaters. They certainly do look collegiate.

THURSDAY 20—All faculty members and students congregate on the campus in order to have the college picture taken by South Dakota Rambler.

FRIDAY 21—Oh! what a night for parties. The Seniors are at the New Paris Hills. The Juniors at College Point. The Sophomores at Rachel Weaver's home. While the little "Freshies" stay at home and wreck rooms for the girls.

SATURDAY 22—Several Freshman girls crawl through the room transoms so as to get to breakfast on time.

MONDAY 24—Solicitation by Literary Societies!! Happy smiles.

THURSDAY 27—Peace is disturbed in Kulp Hall during study period when a "howling" dog is found in the Dining Hall. Professor Hershberger comes to the aid of the frightened inmates. Very carefully and cautiously he carries the dog outdoors while some of the college men enjoy the scene very much.

FRIDAY 28—Al Place entertains the Senior Class to a chicken dinner, at his new cafe.

OCTOBER

FRIDAY 5—Miss Witmer entertains the Sophomore Girls' Sunday School Class. Several students participate in a Fudge party at Leiningers'.

THURSDAY 11—The girls are very enthusiastic in redecorating the Music Studio. They all agree it looks more inviting now.

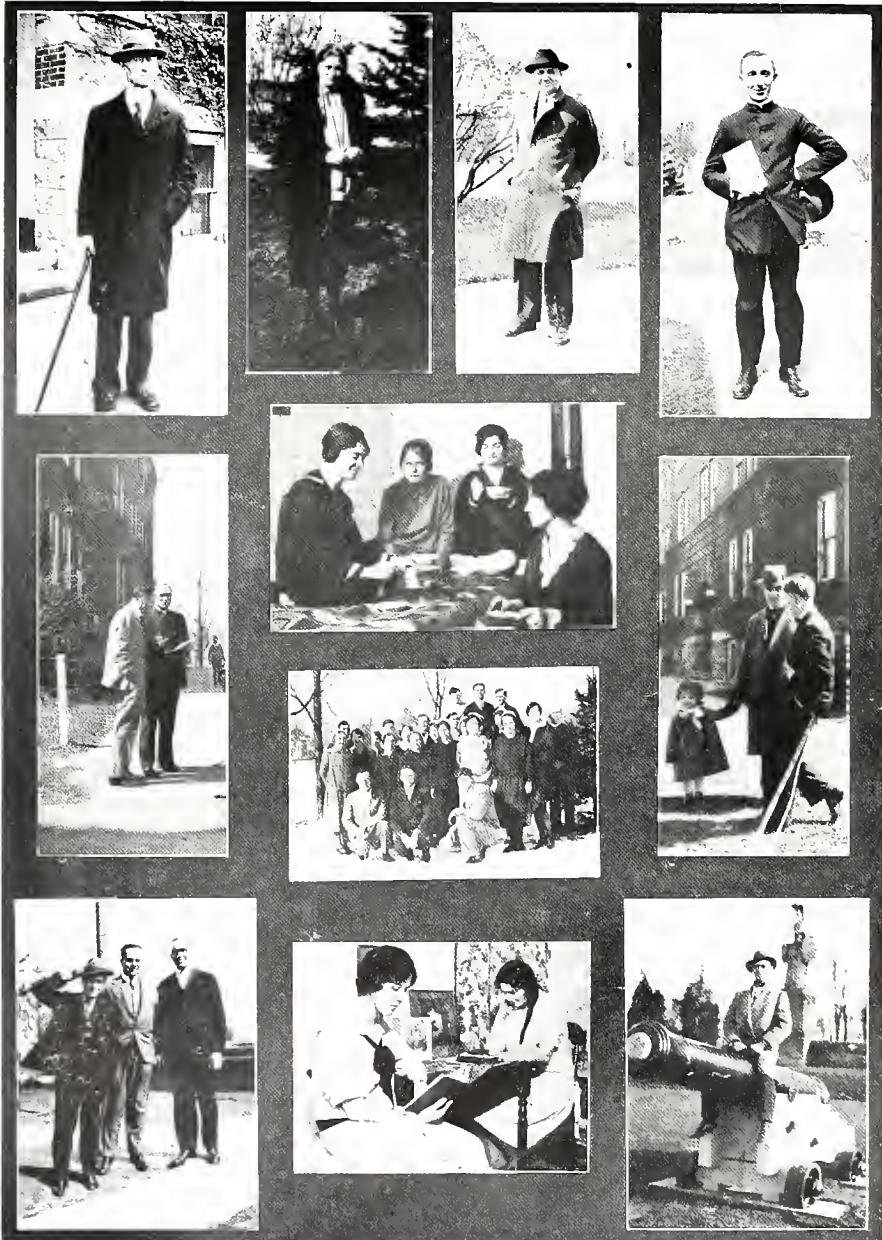

TUESDAY 16—The Senior Class gives a four o'clock tea in honor of Miss Mary Wenger, a former member of the class and a returned missionary from India. The class presented Miss Wenger with an appropriate traveling gift. Very interesting illustrated lecture on Australia in the evening.

TUESDAY 23—The members of the Audubon Society enjoy their evening lunch near the dam.

WEDNESDAY 24—Eighty-five students attend the concert of the Westminster Choir at Elkhart.

FRIDAY 26—Professor and Mrs. H. S. Bender entertain the Senior Class at a Hallowe'en Party in their home. After an evening of contests and games, suitable refreshments were served.

WEDNESDAY 31—The MAPLE LEAF Staff visits the Indiana Engraving Company at South Bend.

NOVEMBER

SUNDAY 4—All students are invited out to homes in the community for Sunday dinner. College dining hall is closed.

TUESDAY 6—Election Day. Everybody for Hoover but Howard Schertz.

SUNDAY 11—All third floor of Kulp Hall goes to Esther Leininger's home for dinner. Did they eat?

MONDAY 12—Armistice Day. We have a half day of vacation. Rah! Rah!

FRIDAY 16—"Sisters All" has its annual meeting in Reading Room. Serve ice cream, cake, and coffee. The fellows have a "hard times" party.

WEDNESDAY 21—Professor Umble, Junior class advisor, gives the Men's and Women's Basketball Teams a special dinner in the dining hall.

SATURDAY 24—Girls observe "open house" in Kulp Hall for ladies of the community. Serve tea and waters.

DECEMBER

THURSDAY 13—Two of the students decorate the dining hall for Christmas.

TUESDAY 18—MAPLE LEAF drive after chapel. Over seven hundred MAPLE LEAFS are pledged by the students!

WEDNESDAY 19—Choruses give a Christmas Program in Assembly Hall. Students serenade faculty later in the evening. Cooks serve cocoa to the faithful few who endure the cold.

THURSDAY 20—Almost everyone goes home for Christmas vacation. College is lonesome and deserted for the few who remain here.

JANUARY

WEDNESDAY 2—Students come back to resume their studies with 23 additional ones, the Short Bible Term students. Lots of snow and ice and—Dining Hall hash again.

FRIDAY 4—Term Social, plenty of ice cream and waters. Henry Bohn is declared to have a more realistic quack than a duck itself. Short Bible Term begins.

SATURDAY 5—Some thirty students attend the concert presented by the Bluffton Men's Glee Club at the Eighth Street Mennonite Church.

FRIDAY 11—The Juniors and Seniors indulge in an old-fashioned taffy pull on the third floor of Science Hall. Paul Horsch initiates the girls into the mysteries of static electricity and centrifugal force with (?) results.

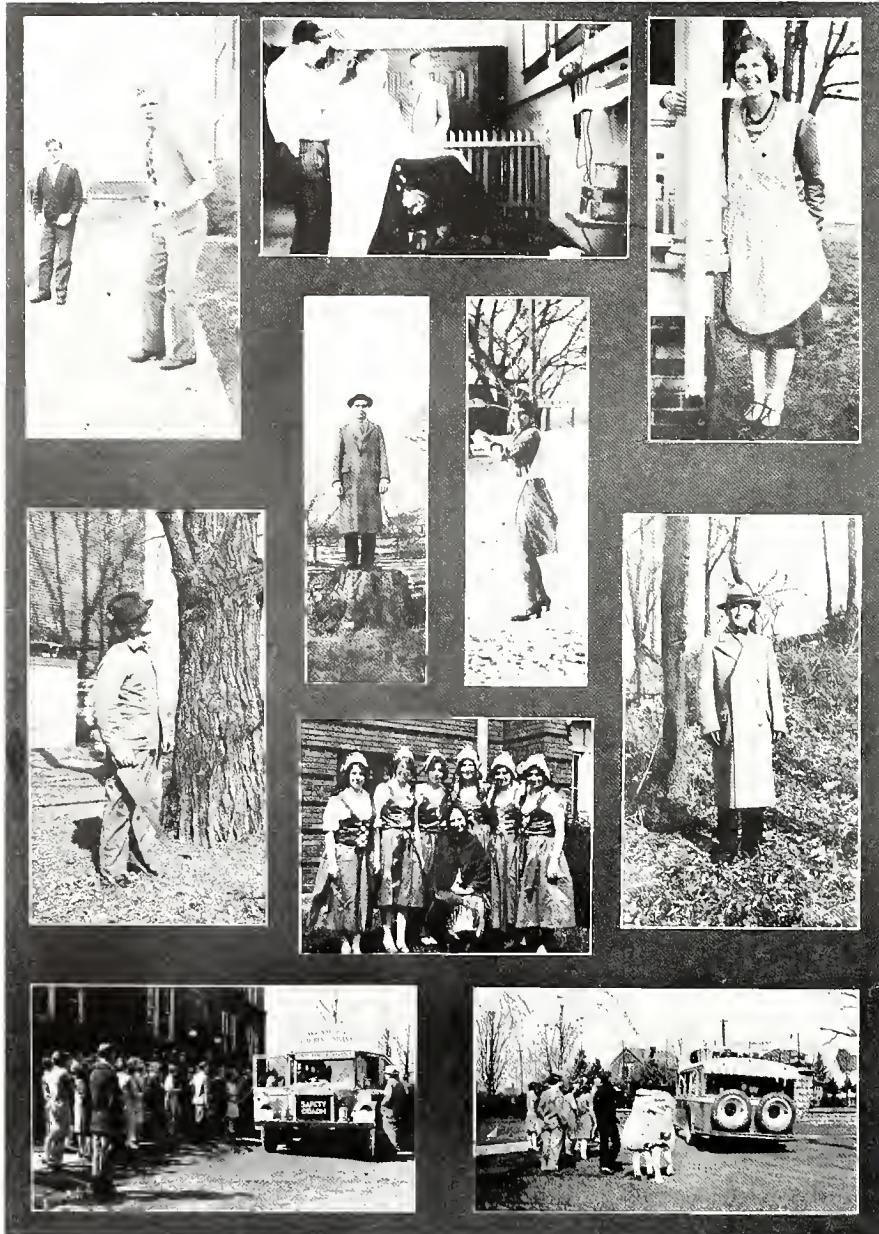

FRIDAY 18—Professor Enss presents an interesting illustrated lecture on Russian life and customs and the great Russian famine to the Mennonite Historical Society.

SATURDAY 19—Ice skating season begins on the dam. Several students assume various postures before discovering that one should keep an upright position while skating. For particulars inquire of Alta Brenneman.

MONDAY 21—Semester exams begin. For some reason everybody apparently is studying and the Reading Room partakes of an unusual quietness.

FRIDAY 25—Cars for rent are at a premium. Reason: Civic Music Concert at Elkhart.

SATURDAY 26—Over seventy students go skating on the dam. Fire, wieners, marshmallows, an' everything, in spite of the zero weather.

MONDAY 28—Registration Day ends week--end of good times between semesters. Everybody eagerly (?) resumes the daily grind of class work.

THURSDAY 31—No Yong Park lectures on China. Standing room only in Kulp Hall Reception Room since it is too cold to walk after the lecture.

FEBRUARY

SUNDAY 3—Many attend the Vesper Musical service at the Presbyterian Church. In the evening Professor Enss preaches a German sermon at the College.

THURSDAY 7—Goshen College students again show their loyalty by pledging over $500 for Missions and Endowment, at a short chapel program.

FRIDAY 8—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Raber and Marion Schertz entertain the Seniors at the L. S. Nafziger home. Hank and Dime make everybody laugh.

MONDAY 11—Vesperians entertain the Adelphians with a Valentine program. A great variety of Valentines are exchanged. A. O. Histand preaches in the evening.

FRIDAY 15—Christian Life Conference begins with a large audience present. Many visitors are present. Indeed, a time of inspiration and spiritual development.

WEDNESDAY 20—MAPLE LEAF Staff closes selling contest and pins stars on the ten best salesmen. William Hallman receives the largest star and Freeman Gingrich is a close second.

THURSDAY 21—Mabelle Smith has a birthday celebrated by a special table in the Dining Hall.

THURSDAY 28—Choruses sing at the Clinton School in the first complete program of the year. Professor Hartzler, intent on directing, almost falls over backward.

MARCH

FRIDAY 1—Mr. Sprunger, professor of Art at the College, gives an interesting talk to the Home Economics Club on "Pictures for the Home".

SUNDAY 2—The Hon. Frederick J. Libby, Executive Secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War, gave a very profitable address in Assembly Hall at the four o'clock Vesper service.

TUESDAY 5—Eighty students were privileged to hear the International Male Quartet in Elkhart under the auspices of the Civic Music Association.

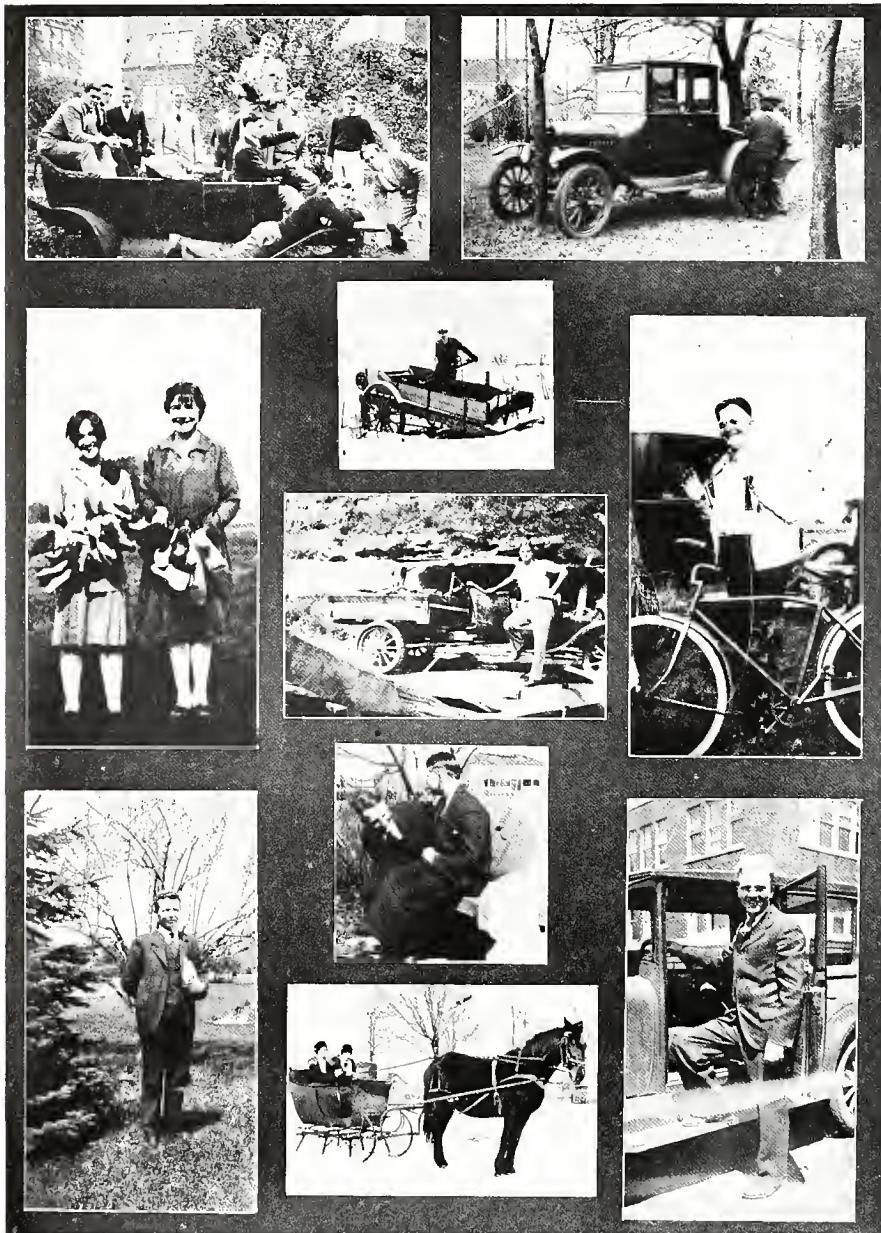

FRIDAY 8—John Bender won first prize in the annual B. F. Deahl Peace Oratorical Contest. Ellis Hostetler took second place, and Otto Binkle third. The College Quartet gave entire program at Elkhart Literary Society.

TUESDAY 12—Through the efforts of the Men's Chorus and Noble Kreider, professor of Piano at the College, a program was given by Victor Prahl, baritone, of Paris, France, accompanied by Mr. Kreider.

FRIDAY 15—The annual Vesperian Tea proves to be a most interesting and enjoyable affair. The decorations and program were in keeping with St. Patrick's Day.

THURSDAY 21—Building operations begin on the new Men's Dormitory which will be known as the "John S. Coffman Hall".

FRIDAY 22—One of the most important social events of the year occurs when the College Juniors entertain the Seniors at the Alderman Hotel, at the annual Junior-Senior banquet.

TUESDAY 26—The Men's Chorus left for their Eastern Tour.

WEDNESDAY 27—Everyone busy packing and planning for Easter vacation.

APRIL

WEDNESDAY 3—School is started and classes are passing again. Everyone is tired and sleepy. Men's Chorus arrives late at night.

WEDNESDAY 10—Miss Witmer gives an address before the Science Club.

FRIDAY 12—Choruses give a concert at Goshen High School.

FRIDAY 19—Vesperians and Adelphians give an interesting public program in Assembly Hall.

TUESDAY 23—Students and faculty awake to find that the Seniors have made an early departure to "parts unknown". Sneak Day.

FRIDAY 26—Freshmen are left stranded at College Point after their party. Professor Umble banquets the Junior Class. Academy Junior-Senior Banquet.

15-20—Courtesy Week. Short talks in Chapel and dining hall. Everyone tries to be courteous.

MONDAY 29—Open House in Kulp Hall.

MAY

THURSDAY 2—Regular cold wintry day. Snowing and blowing. Mary Hess tests the temperature of "Vicks" in a peculiar manner, and finds it hot enough to burn her nose.

FRIDAY 3—The Men's Chorus leaves on a ten-day Western Tour.

MONDAY 6—The Avon Literary Society entertained the Vesperian Literary Society in the gym.

SATURDAY 11—The Ladies' Chorus left by bus for Chicago where they met the Men's Chorus and combined into the A Capella Chorus. Three programs were rendered in Chicago today and Sunday by the big Chorus, and the group returns to the College Sunday night.

WEDNESDAY 15—May Day Outing at College Point. The treasure hunt furnishes much excitement.

FRIDAY 18—The Oral Expression Class gives an entertaining program in Assembly Hall.

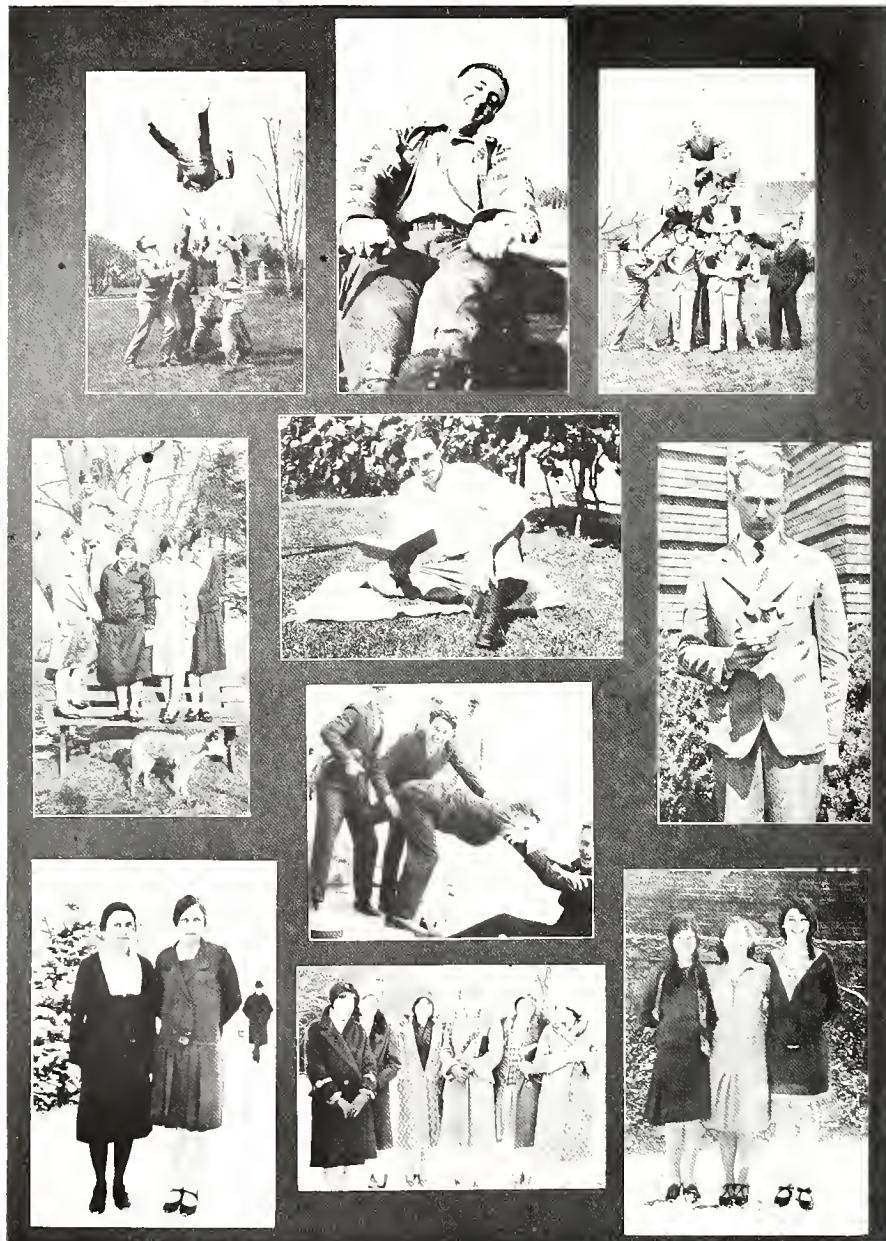

MONDAY 20—The Adelphian Literary Society entertains the Vesperians at Gray's Bridge. Old fashioned games were played after which everyone participated in the roasting of wieners.

WEDNESDAY 22—The A Cappella Chorus left at noon for Berne, Indiana where they gave a program in the evening.

THURSDAY 23—F. S. Martin won first place in the Annual Discussion Contest held in Assembly Hall. Niemann Brunk and Ellis Hostetler took second and third places, respectively.

FRIDAY 24—Prof. Arthur Smith of Eureka, Ill., delivers a lecture to the Science Club on "Plant Life in the Mountains of Utah".

MONDAY 27—The piano students give their recital in Assembly Hall. The new Connover Grand is used, which is the gift of the Seniors to the College.

BUILDERS' SECTION

Mennonite Educational Finance Corporation

The Mennonite Educational Finance Corporation is a holding company brought into existence for the purpose of lending aid to Mennonite schools in the way of providing buildings for the institutions where such is possible.

It is financing the construction of John S. Coffman Hall, a residence for the men of Goshen College. The board of Education deeded to the corporation such part of the campus as was necessary for the location of the building and for construction purposes. In order to secure finances without imposing a burden upon the church, the company sold non-taxable stock bearing interest at 5% per annum, thus furnishing a safe investment for the stockholders.

The board of education then leases the building from the Finance Corporation at a rental sufficient to liquidate the cost plus interest on the investment within a period of twenty years. The money to pay the rental is to be secured from the income of the room rent from the building.

The Finance Corporation as well as the college appreciates the loyal support it has been receiving at the hands of its friends and pledges anew its powers to the cause to which it was dedicated.

Just a Little Conundrum

Why are burglars like lumber?
Because they always go into the best houses.

Not only do we sell the majority of lumber for the best homes all around here, but we get most of the bills for barns, granaries and for all the buildings where good, sound, dry materials are required.

People have learned that there is a lot of difference in the quality of lumber, and as we make quality our "long suit" particular buyers take no chances, but buy what they need from us

Our stock is complete, and our prices as low as you can get.

Remember me is all I ask,
And, if indeed it prove a task—
Forget me.
